Body Music

POEMS ABOUT THE NOISES YOUR BODY
MAKES

Jane Yolen and Ryan G. Van Cleave, Illustrated by Luis San Vicente

In Body Music, bestselling authors Jane Yolen and Ryan G. Van Cleave bring their trademark wit to fifteen hilarious poems that celebrate the sounds of the human body, from sniffles to snaps, sneezes to wheezes, hiccups to yawns, and more! Each poem is illustrated with bright, lively artwork and is accompanied by scientific facts that answer questions like: What is a knuckle crack? Why do we sneeze? and What makes a tummy rumble? Funny and secretly educational, Body Music has it all: science, history, language arts, and farts!

KEY POINTS

- New poems from the legendary Jane Yolen!
- Little kids love fart jokes!
- A little bit of science and social studies in a humorous package

ABOUT THE AUTHOR

The most curious museum on Earth isn't on the earth at all; it's on the moon.

The Museum on the Moon

THE CURIOUS OBJECTS ON THE LUNAR SURFACE

Irene Latham, Illustrated by Myriam Wares

Footprints forever etched in time. A commemorative patch from a tragic flight. Two golf balls, still lodged in frozen dust 238,900 miles away. From the amusing to the poignant, The Museum on the Moon introduces readers to the mysterious objects left on the lunar surface since humans arrived in 1969. Part history, part poetry, heartwarming and haunting, and illustrated with breathtaking graphite drawings, The Museum on the Moon is a moving exhibit of humankind's most famous quest for knowledge and our place in the universe.

ABOUT THE AUTHOR

Irene Latham is the author of many books for children, including novels, poetry, and picture books. Winner of the 2016 ILA Lee Bennett Hopkins Promising Poet Award, she writes poetry inspired by nature, art, and the experience of being human. Together with Charles Waters she's written Dictionary for a Better World and Can I Touch Your Hair? Poems of Race, Mistakes and Friendship, which was named a Charlotte Huck Honor book and a Kirkus Best Book of 2018. Irene lives on a lake in Alabama where she does her best to "live her poem" every single day by laughing, playing the cello, and birdwatching.

Nana and Me

SPECIAL POEMS JUST FOR US

Jane Yolen, Illustrated by Sejung Kim

This sweet collection features Nanans who dream and those that sing crying babies to sleep; Nanans who hold hands crossing the street and some that learn hopscotch; Nanans who color with you and some that go to zoos; and other Nanans spending precious time with their precious little ones.

From Spanish to Japanese, Swahili to Yiddish, Scottish to Vietnamese, one thing is clear: No matter what language you say it in, “Grandma” means “Love.”

KEY POINTS

- New poems from the legendary Jane Yolen!
- The perfect book for first time grandmothers (and veteran ones too)!
- A great book for snuggly up on Nana’s lap

Morning Sounds

The birds have their own wakenings.
Each kind a different tone.
Must sing in the early mornings.
Some call out to the rising moon.
Nana knows all those songs.
“That’s a robin,” she says, “A joy!”
I think she knows me by my tunes, too.
She listens while I play.

Go-go Walks Me To School

Out the door, and down the street go the sounds of our walking feet.
Sometimes we talk, or hum, or sing.
Sometimes Go-Go is reciting my favorite poem. It begins this way “Twas brillig...” And almost ends on a “Cebo Callay.”

And I almost know it by heart!
